LOCAL DOCTORS DEFEAT NORFOLK

In a heart-rending, close-fought game, teplete with brilliant fielding and spiced with costly errors, the players of Norfolk went down before the sawbones of Richmond at Broad Street Park yesterday afternoon. The game, which was for the benefit of the Sheltering Arms Hospital, was attended by a large crowd of amateur fans and a few professional rooters.

"Smiling Dutch" Revell manipulated the indicator, and came in for his share of "knocks" "chairs" and other epithets were hurled at him, until he was left stunned, bruised and bleeding. When Pitcher Hoskins got a crack on the shin with a liner, "Dutch" doubled up with laughter, which showed a decided lack of sympathy for a fellow sufferer.

The local players got two runs in the final round, making the score 5 to 2, amid great excitement. Except for twelve hits, one error and one wild pitch, Winston, who fed them over the plate for the victory, was invincible. Had Richmond lost, the locals were going to protest the game on the grounds that Winston's sweater was so loud that the batter couldn't see the ball. Hoskins also made an error and a wild pitch, but he only allowed nine hits. Everybody started in one way or another.

In the first inning Kellam, for Richmond, got a free pass, going to second as Williamson reached first on Berkler's error, and scored when Hoskins singled, and scored when Hoskins singled. Williamson tallied from second on Parker's single.

In Norfolk's half Burke was safe on a fielder's choice, stole second, and came home on Call's error. In the second round Kellam singled, was advanced by Osterhaus' stole third, and tallied on a wild pitch.

In the third inning Hoskins singled and scored on the errors of Osterhaus and Wall.

In the ninth inning Hoskins reached first on Winston's error, stole second, scoring on Williamson's Texas League. The latter purloined second, went to third on a passed ball, and scored on Hinchman's swat to centre field. The score:

CAROLINA LEAGUE

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
CHARLOTTE, N. C., July 7.—Inability to hit at all proved the undoing of the locals to-day, the Winston-Salem aggregation of ball-players defeating them in both games of a double-header. Both teams played good ball, and though Charlotte faced two pitchers, they mustered only a total of five hits for the two games. Otherwise the locals put up a good exhibition. POPULAR PLAYERS VIE FOR HONOR

Merrily onward the race for the most popular player in the Virginia League continues, and at present no one knows what the outcome will be. Some of the tail-enders are beginning to pull strong, and from present indications the leaders will have several more to contend with before long.

The number of votes coming in is remarkable. Another point of interest is the widespread territory from which they come. The extreme South and far West are heard from almost daily. Yesterday a letter with ballot came from Texas. Not a few of the votes are being sent from North Carolina. Nearly 300 letters were received yesterday. Here are some samples:

Baseball Ballot Editor:
Count the enclosed 128 votes for Jay (in nothing else but name) Kandler, star performer on first for Richmond. We hate to see him go so fast, for we are afraid one of the big leagues may grab him, as he is in our opinion the Hal Chase of the South. Lucy Ann actually went when Doyle took first place, but we will see that that $50 goes to some Richmond player.
BLEACHER JIM AND LUCY ANN.

Baseball Ballot Editor:
I enclosed and twenty-five votes for John Fox. I hope he will be at the top of the list next Sunday. Respectfully,
JACK.
New Canton, Va.

Baseball Ballot Editor:
Please count these thirty-eight votes for Jay Kandler, the crack-jack first baseman of the Virginia League, and the man who, for a number of seasons, and without disparagement to the other players, deserves the $50 gold prize. Kandler is always a gentleman, uses his head like a veteran, works like a Trojan, makes more pitch hits than any other man on the team, which we all know win the games, runs the bases cleverly, and is in the game with both feet all the time. In the opinion of the writer, he is the ideal ball player.
Very truly yours,
ENTHUSIAST.

Baseball Ballot Editor:
Enclosed find twenty votes to go to the credit of Tom Messitt, who has done more to strengthen the Richmond Club than any other player.
R. M. B., Jr.

Baseball Ballot Editor:
Please enclosed eleven votes, which please place to the credit of Rube L. Howard, and say for me that he is a really ball-player and always tries to win for his team.
Respectfully,
ONE OF HIS TARIHEEL FRIENDS.

Baseball Ballot Editor:
Please count the enclosed thirty-three votes for Frank Doyle, of Danville. I have observed his conduct for three years, and have found it to be that of a gentleman both on and off the field. Would that there were more such. He has my best wishes.
A RICHMOND ROOTER.

Baseball Ballot Editor:
Please count these ten votes for the popular second baseman, James Ison.
TEDDY.

Baseball Ballot Editor:
Enclosed and herewith twenty-one votes in favor of Guy Titman, whom the writer considers one of the best ball players in the Virginia State League. His appearance is far above the average, and, as for his manner, he has no equal.
A FANNIE.

Baseball Ballot Editor:
Enclosed you will find ten votes for Martin Walsh, the best pitcher in the Virginia League. That he is the best pitcher in the league some may doubt. Just wait and see for yourself. The season is not over yet. Good luck to all of that Danville bunch. They certainly make a fine team.
AN ADMIRER.

Baseball Ballot Editor:
Please credit the enclosed 250 votes to Andy Bowen, the best second baseman and most gentlemanly player in the league.
J. S. W.
Lynchburg, Va.

Baseball Ballot Editor:
Please credit the enclosed 300 ballots to Mr. William Heffron, a first-class and faithful ball player, who has been a favorite with the Richmond fans from his first appearance here. Hoping he will win the prize.

GRIM CLAIMS RIGGS
According to a statement of Manager Grim over the long-distance telephone last night, Riggs is owned by the Lynchburg Club and his departure for Danville will be taken up with President Farrel. Grim says that Riggs accepted his terms and then turned around and joined the Red Sox.
The Lynchburg manager also stated that Kline, who blanketed Portsmouth for the Bugs Monday, was sold to Danville for $200. Kline only won two out of eleven games for Lynchburg.
Revelle's return to Richmond without working at Roanoke means that he will pitch here to-morrow. McKenzie probably going in the game Saturday.

Tigers Win.
A very interesting game was played at Byrd Park yesterday between the Tigers and Bijou ball teams. A good crowd witnessed the game, the feature of which was the pitching of Midgett, who struck out three men with three men on the bases in the ninth inning. The score was 4 to 3 in favor of the Tigers.

Petersburg Loses Again.

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., July 7.—The second game of the series of games between Fredericksburg and Petersburg was played this evening and won by the former by the score of 3 to 1. Batteries—Wright and Manser; Ford and Woodward.

An exciting game of baseball was played on the Centralia diamond Saturday between the Cromos, of Richmond, and Centralia. The game was a tie in the twelfth inning, and a tie of runs the score at that time standing 4 to 4.

By Dr. J. A. C. CHANDLER and Dr. T. B. THAM. S.
This book covers the most interesting period of history of the English-speaking people in the Western World. It is full of romance and mighty deeds.
The narrative will appeal to Virginians. Every one should be familiar with the glorious achievements of colonial days, and the book should be made a part of the history course in every school in Virginia. It is printed from clear plates, in large type, embellished with numerous half-tones, in sepia, and a frontispiece in color of Pocahontas, made by Mr. William L. Sheppard from the original at Boston Rectory, Norfolk, England. The cover design is very artistic. This story is told in twenty-five chapters and 388 pages.
